MATH

Gainesville High School has a wide variety of math courses from which to choose. They range from ninth grade general math to solid geometry and trigonometry. These courses are taught by a well-qualified staff, many of whom have won awards for their work in mathematics. Mrs. Phipps was chosen by the University Kiwanis Club as Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Wanninger was selected to represent the schools of our county at a conference of mathematics teachers in Cape Canaveral. Not only have the teachers won awards but also the students whom they have taught. Several of our graduates have won honors in the field of mathematics and returned to thank the teachers who inspired and taught them.

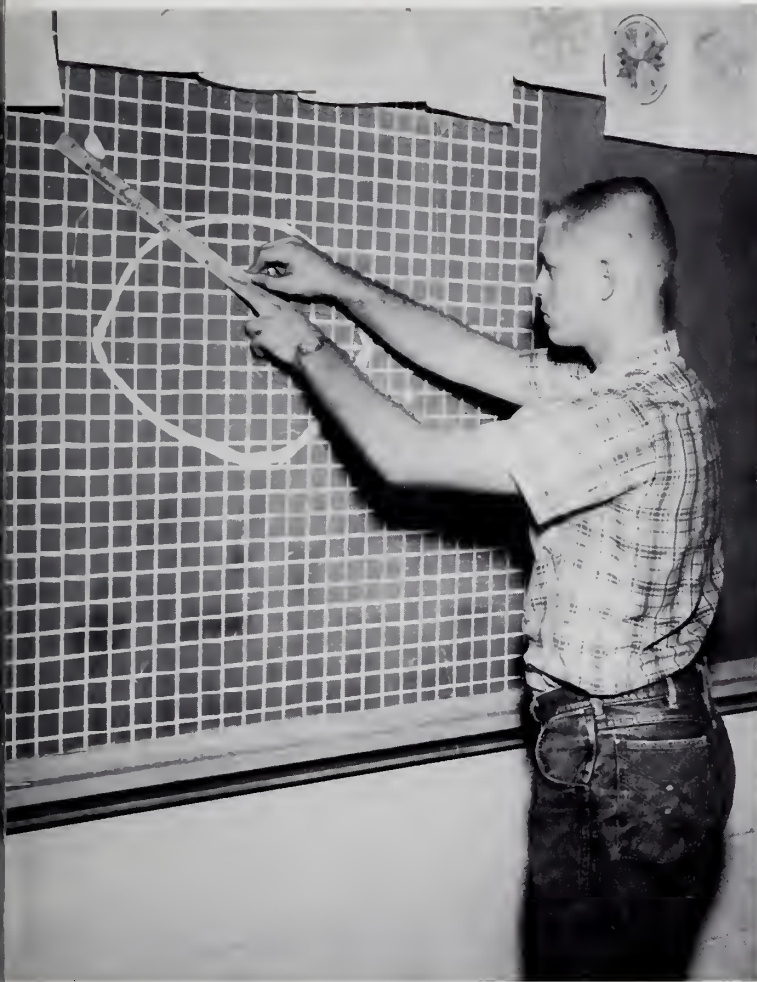

A credit to the importance of mathematics at Gainesville High School is the fact that out of 1400 students, 1100 are taking a math course of some kind. This is far above the state average for a school this size.

In an age which is becoming increasingly space-conscious, the necessity for mathematics cannot be stressed too highly. Gainesville High School is sending out students, some of whom will be tomorrow's scientists, with a great knowledge and skill in this important field.

ACCELERATED MATH IV

The twenty students pictured above have just completed a course which was introduced to Gainesville High School in 1954. The accelerated math course was designed for students who, by the beginning of the ninth grade, had shown definite interest and ability in mathematics. These students are able, in four years, to advance through college freshman math. Mrs. Phipps and Mrs. Wanninger have taught this group which is the second one to complete the four year course at Gainesville High School. This has proved so satisfactory to the students that other accelerated courses are being introduced. The first of these is accelerated English which was started this fall.

Since English is the background for all other courses, much emphasis is placed on it at Gainesville High School. Four years of English are required for a student to graduate. Grammar, literature, and creative writing are studied each year on the various grade levels until a student has a well-rounded concept of our language and literature.

This year, a new plan has been introduced, whereby students who have shown special ability and interest in English are grouped into classes which are able to proceed more rapidly through their work. This gives the students time for broader reading and more creative writing. It also gives them a chance for more individual help and has been found to increase student interest and participation. The accelerated course was used in the tenth through the twelfth grades this year, but will be introduced also into the ninth grade next year.

Students who are interested in creative writing have a chance to contribute to Excaliber, a magazine published each semester by the journalism department. This magazine contains art work, short stories, and poetry created by the students. Short stories and poetry have also been entered by Gainesville High School students in national writing contests. Several prizes have been won on the state level.

A new course for students who plan to go directly into a vocation after school is being planned. This will be called Business English and will teach the student to apply his English practically.

Speech, taught by Mrs. Miller, is an aid to the study of English. The course helps students in oral book reports as well as speech-making in front of a class. The two courses, although closely connected, supplement each other with ideas and methods.

Judy Cline tries to decide which of the suggested books she will enjoy reading.

FINE ARTS

Through the years, few students have failed to respond to the influence exerted by our school's Fine Arts department. The assembly programs and art displays staged by them will long be remembered for their interest and originality.

The Fine Arts program has two divisions: Music and Arts and Crafts. Both have received many honors for their various activities.

The three sections of the Music department have brought great acclaim to Gainesville High. The band, chorus, and orchestra all have won excellent and superior ratings at the state and district contests. All Gainesville High School students are proud to have these groups winning praise for our school.

Ann Johnson is attracted by a display of jewelry which crafts' students made.

Although it is not required, more than half the students of Gainesville High School take a foreign language. Presently offered are Latin, French, and Spanish.

Latin has always been a fixture at G. H. S. and is second only to Spanish in student popularity. In the four years offered the stress is placed on basic Latin plus its relation to English words, its history and its effect on American and English literature. Cultural interest is taken up along with comparison of Roman government to that of today and the influence of Latin on the present day.

French, just recently introduced at G. H. S., offers first and second year to all students. In the course the rudiments of the French language such as reading, writing and grammar are covered. Further study takes the student into French diplomacy, culture and relation to English as well as introduction to its journals and literature.

Spanish, first introduced in 1940, was offered only in the 11th and 12th grades. From this small beginning it has grown into nine sections including first through fourth years and two accelerated classes. Spanish is taught through the oral approach in courses which cover art, literature and its culture. Gainesville students are able to study in a specially equipped Spanish lab including a stage, record players, tape recorders, and recording booths.

LIBRARY

The materials in the G. H. S. library include: a variety of books, well-selected though inadequate in number, to supplement the curriculum of grades nine through twelve as well as to provide leisure time reading for a student body of nearly fourteen hundred; a reference collection; magazines, pamphlets, and newspapers; and a limited supply of audio-visual materials.

Students have access to the library individually or while in attendance with a class scheduled for library work. Training in the effective use of materials may be received individually or in groups. The librarians share the responsibility of orientation for new students and the guiding of individual students in the proper use of materials. In addition teachers, or teachers and librarians, strive to provide proper instruction at the appropriate time.

The county School Board appropriates money annually for the purchase and upkeep of library materials. Donations of money and materials have been made to the library by many service clubs of G.H.S., the Parent-Teacher Association, and individual patrons and teachers. At the present time a drive has been started by a group of interested patrons to assist in raising additional funds for the library and in securing suitable and adequate materials to meet the educational and leisure time needs of the fast growing student body of G.H.S.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The boys' physical education program consists of many different activities. Among these activities are: touch football, basketball, gator ball, golf, weight lifting, tennis, and a camping course for twelfth graders. Participation in the various activities accounts for the greater percentage of the boys' grades. Knowledge of the sport, readiness to participate, and tests make up the rest of the physical education students' grades. Boys in the ninth and tenth grades are predominantly taught skills in the various activities. Older boys, ones in the eleventh and twelfth grades, learn team participation. Variety is stressed in order to eliminate certain sports from recurring in a boy's physical education career.

A diversified program is also offered by the girls' physical education department. Tumbling, modern dance, basketball, soccer, volleyball, badminton, tennis, and physical fitness are some of the activities in which the girls participate. As in the boys' physical education program, a variety of sports is given to eliminate boredom of certain sports. In girls' physical education, the ninth grade girls are taught team sports and fundamentals. In tenth grade, team and individual strength is stressed. Juniors and seniors are taught advance team sports and advanced skills.

Added to this fine program, we have a staff of well-skilled instructors interested in teaching the way to healthier man and womanhood.

By using a microscope, Abbie Leavitt is able to study Protozoa.

Gainesville High School is proud to boast a complete science department which offers the student a thorough science education.

A generalized science course is offered to ninth grade boys and girls. General Science touches briefly on all the sciences, giving the student a well-rounded view of the secrets of our world. The science scholar can then enter more specific and detailed courses. The first of these, biology, is the study of living things. It takes in dissection and analysis of facts about plants and animals.

Chemistry, the study of the elements, is offered to the tenth and eleventh grades. This is the course in which chemical reactions, physical and chemical properties of elements, and nuclear make-up is studied. Physical science is a comprehensive course which combines physics and chemistry. This course gives the student a background in science which will help him through life. Physics is an exact science, taking in the study of energy and its related fields.

These five science courses serve as stepping stones to the student who is going into the fields of science and other fields of higher learning.

Biology students capture insects for their collections.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

A globe helps Jennie Murphree in her study of World History

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

The teaching of social studies in Gainesville High School prepares the students for intelligent living in the society of today.

The study of civics acquaints the student with his country and its democratic principles. It helps him develop attitudes and ideas that will enable him to understand, appreciate, and participate in a democratic society.

Problems of democracy, a new course introduced into the curriculum this year, combines social, economic, and current problems. It helps the interested student to think logically and objectively about problems confronting our modern day civilization.

World history, a diversified course, emphasizes the dependence of people and nations and the need for world-wide co-operation. This course acquaints the student with the major ideologies and cultures of the world and reasons for their development. It teaches the student to protect past contributions of ancient societies and to further the advancement of civilization.

American history develops an understanding of American heritage. This study helps us understand the social, political and economic problems faced by American citizens. American history links the past with the present. Through this course, students gain a sense of responsibility, sympathy, and understanding for the various groups that make up our complex society.

These social studies courses offer a comprehensive study of a world in which distance and physical barriers are no longer important. They teach critical objective thinking instead of blind acceptance of problems. They develop in the students an appreciation of democratic principles and a desire to apply these principles as intelligent American citizens.

VOCATIONAL AND

An answer to the "Hunt and Peck" method is found in typing classes such as this.

VOCATIONAL

The vocational courses offered at Gainesville High are many and varied. They range from Architectural Drafting, a course for the architects of the future, to D.C.T., a training program for those who wish to earn money in high school. It is hoped that these courses will well prepare the student for earning his living immediately or for future study of vocations in college.

Typing, Shorthand, and Bookkeeping prepare students for a commercial career. Most students of G.H.S. will be familiar with typing before they graduate. Students are taught the "touch" system and the correct technique of using the typewriter. Shorthand students learn the fundamentals of taking dictation and transcription. Typing is required for shorthand; however, they may be taken simultaneously. Bookkeeping is helpful for those planning a business career. Students of bookkeeping should learn the values of systematic records.

Distributive and Cooperative Training has three aspects. All are designed to let the student have occupational experience while he finishes high school. CBE students are employed as office assistants, DCT students work in various community services, while students in DE are employed as retail salesmen.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENTS

Home Economics, one of the first vocational courses to which Gainesville High School girls are exposed, is designed to prepare them for futures as homemakers. This course is not just concerned with cooking and sewing, other varied topics including child care, home management, and decorating are taught.

Vocational Agriculture is a study of farming and its related fields. One of the main parts of the program is a project on plants or animals. Students are expected to earn money from this. Students are also expected to be familiar with the equipment and machines in the shop.

Architectural Drafting, a three hour course, is offered to the juniors and seniors of Gainesville High who are interested in careers as architects. Besides the fundamentals of drafting, students are taught more advanced ideas.

STUDENT

Fifty-one students comprise the student council of Gainesville High School this year. This group has the responsibility of representing some 1300 students and the school itself. Mrs. Selle is the advisor for the student council which meets every Monday during class period.

The council has been an important factor in Gainesville High School for the past thirty-five years and this year has proven to be one of outstanding accomplishments. For the first time in 24 years, four students represented the council at the Southern Association of Student Council's convention in Jacksonville Beach to obtain new ideas for improvements.

Among this year's accomplishments are: the starting of a Student Bank, Hall of Fame, Scholarship Fund, Citizenship and Scholastic letter, revision of the Student Body and Council Constitution, and many others which are still in planning. The council has striven for better relations between students and faculty and broader contacts with other schools.

BALL

At the opening of the 1958 football campaign, the outlook for Gainesville High's football team was fairly good. Returning were such veterans as quarterback Eddie Feely, tackle John Steadham, halfback Kenny Russom, guard Les Wigglesworth, fullback Randy Clarke, Mickey Woods, Donnie Joiner, and David Tanner. As the season progressed, it became evident that this group of boys was one of the finest grid aggregations ever assembled at G.H.S. The season contained two tremendous upset wins which will never be forgotten by the students at G.H.S. in the year 1958-1959. The wins were over Lee of Jacksonville and Leon of Tallahassee. A 6-3 record proved to be the fruit of a hard fought season that was filled with more than the usual number of thrills and few disappointments.

Above is a happy scene that took place six times during the 1958 season. G.H.S. wound up its grid campaign with a 6-3 record.

G.H.S. kicks off their 1958 season with Palatka. Donnie Rice is shown kicking.

G. H. S. vs. PALATKA

Gainesville High's Purple Hurricanes opened the 1958 season with an upset win over the favored Palatka Maroons. Even though the score was a low 7-6, the game was filled with action. Gainesville's lone score came on a short plunge by halfback Donnie Rice, the extra point being tacked on by Eddie Feely. The visitors managed a score in the final quarter, but this was not enough.

KENNY RUSSOM

In a thrilling upset win over Lee, Eddie Feely is shown slipping past a Lee tackler for the winning extra point. GHS won 7-6.

G.H.S. vs. LEE

The number 2 team in the state, Robert E. Lee's Generals, was the next to fall prey to G. H. S. Lee, heavily favored by four or five touchdowns, was outplayed outfought, and out-scored by a fired-up bunch of Gainesville Hurricanes. G.H.S. scored first on a one yard plunge by Eddie Feely, who also added the extra point. Lee scored but missed the all important extra point. In the second half, Eddie Feely was shaken loose on an 88 yard touchdown punt return, but an officials' error in enforcing a clipping penalty nullified the magnificent run. After the game, loyal G.H.S. fans joined the team to celebrate the biggest upset football win in G.H.S. history.

MEL REICHERT
Senior, Guard

Jubilation is shown on the faces of Larry Collins, Minor Peebles, Wells Hood, James Glass, and Bill Conner as they carry Coach Flowers off the field.

STEVE GUINN
Senior, Halfback

G.H.S. vs. MAINLAND

The Purple Hurricanes ran their record to 3-0 with a 20-0 win over Daytona Beach Mainland. Mainland was out-manned from the start and seemed to realize this, even though the Buccaneers never gave up.

Kenny Russom, No. 22, is shown being pulled down after a good gain in the Daytona Beach Mainland game.

G.H.S. vs. LAKE CITY

"Into every life a little rain must fall." This best describes the upset win by Lake City's Tigers over G.H.S. This final score, 12-6. The lone bright spot for the hundreds of G.H.S. rooters who went to Lake City, was Eddie Feely's 75 yard punt return for a touchdown. Lake City scored on a long pass with seconds left in the game.

G.H.S. vs. PENSACOLA

"When it rains, it pours." G.H.S. was soundly defeated 49-6 by state champions, Pensacola. G.H.S.'s lone touchdown came as the result of a sustained drive by the Purple Hurricanes in the second quarter. Eddie Feely scored on a pass from quarterback Donnie Joiner. The extra point missed, but as it turned out, it really didn't matter.

G.H.S. vs. LIVE OAK

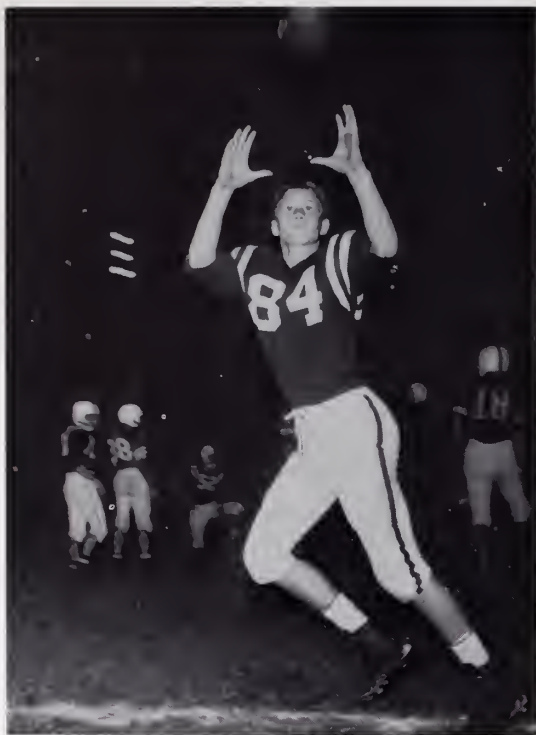

Live Oak came to town to furnish the opposition for the G.H.S. Homecoming. G.H.S., however, completely dominated the play during the game, winning 33-0. Scoring for G.H.S. were fullback Randy Clarke, halfback Kenny Russom, quarterback Eddie Feely, and Donnie Rice. The Bulldogs of Live Oak took a fearful pounding from the G.H.S. grid machine throughout the game. G.H.S. rolled up a tremendous amount of yardage in gaining its fourth grid win of the season. This win brought G.H.S.'s record to 4-2.

G.H.S. vs. OCALA

On the night of November 7, a large crowd of loyal G.H.S. rooters made the 35 mile sojourn to Ocala to see the clash between the Wildcats and the Purple Hurricanes. This game is traditionally a hard fought game and this one was no exception. After a scoreless first half, in which G.H.S. was not able to move the ball for any appreciable gain, Ocala scored on a pass early in the fourth quarter, making the score 7-0. G.H.S. fought back with a touchdown by Eddie Feely but the extra point was no good. An onside kick and a long pass to Kenny Russom put the ball on the Ocala three yard line, as the gun sounded. Oh well. Wait till next year!

TOM DOWNS
Senior, End

No. 81, Donnie Rowland, makes a sensational grab of a pass to score a touchdown in G.H.S.'s upset over Leon.

G.H.S. vs. LEON

In their next outing, a fired up band of Purple Hurricanes upset a highly favored Tallahassee Leon football team, 19-0. Things started with a bang in the first quarter when an Eddie Feely to James Glass pass accounted for 55 yards and G.H.S.'s first touchdown. Leon, stunned by this quick touchdown, fought desperately to get back into the game. Fumbles and intercepted passes thwarted most of their efforts. Two more touchdowns, one a beautiful pass and a spectacular catch by Donnie Rowland, and victory was G.H.S.'s over Leon, for the first time in eleven years. Needless to say, everyone was overjoyed at this victory.

G.H.S. vs. SANTE FE

In the season's finale, G.H.S. eked out a win over neighboring Sante Fe by the score of 13-7. Leading 6-0 for a good part of the game, G.H.S. found itself in trouble when quarterback Buddy Roberts scored on a 60 yard run. Not to be denied a victory, the purple and white fought back with Eddie Feely scoring from the one with a few seconds left in the game. The game closed out the high school football career of 12 seniors, all of whom must be commended for their fine work.

NUBIT KITE
Senior, Tackle

A great try by James Glass, no. 80, results in an interference penalty against the Santa Fe defender. This penalty led to G.H.S.'s final touchdown.

HURRICANES WIN LAST N.E.C. TITLE

WADE ODOM
HEAD COACH

Coach Wade Odom's 1958-1959 basketball team was assembled at G. H. S. Height, team speed, and a generally well-balanced attack were the key to the Hurricane's fine season.

The Canes were undefeated for the first eight games of the season. One of these first eight games was a 116-38 victory over Lake City. A 67-64 loss to Palatka was the first defeat of the season.

A fine starting team of Mickey Woods, Donnie Rowland, Kenny Russom, Asey Stephens, and either Larry Barnett or Paul Kluge gave G. H. S. a potent opening attack. Donnie Rowland led the Canes in points with a total of 434; Mickey Woods was next with 396.

At Daytona Beach, Gainesville High School won the last Northeastern Conference Championship which will be played. In this tournament they defeated Ocala and Daytona Beach Mainland. In the group tournament G. H. S. won its first two games before losing to Madison, a team the Canes defeated twice during the regular season, 75-60. This loss cost the Hurricanes a chance to go to the state tournament which was won by Daytona Seabreeze.

Credit is due to Mac McGriff, G. H. S.'s fine manager, and the Reverend Gene Williams, who gave invaluable guidance and support to the team. This season also saw a prophecy come true. Three years ago Coach Odom started from scratch to build a basketball team. He promised that in three years he would have a team worthy of recognition. Let it suffice to say that Gainesville High School received that recognition this year thanks to the "three-year-plan" of Coach Wade Odom.

TENNIS COACH
MARGARET HAMMOND

Three years ago Sylvia Hardaway (GHS, 1958), one of Florida's top ranking young tennis players, decided it was high time GHS had a tennis team. And so with the help of Sylvia and Mrs. Margaret Hammond, who is still the tennis coach, GHS organized a girls' tennis team.

In that first year GHS gained recognition when Sylvia Hardaway reached the finals of the Division I Singles in the 1957 Florida State High School Tennis Tournament before losing in three sets to Judy Pilsbury of Daytona Beach, then the number one player in the state. In the Division I Doubles Sylvia and Verna Bean also gained the finals before losing in another three set match to Judy Pilsbury and her partner.

With a year's experience behind them, the entire 1957 team returned in 1958. The record for the 1958 season was as follows:

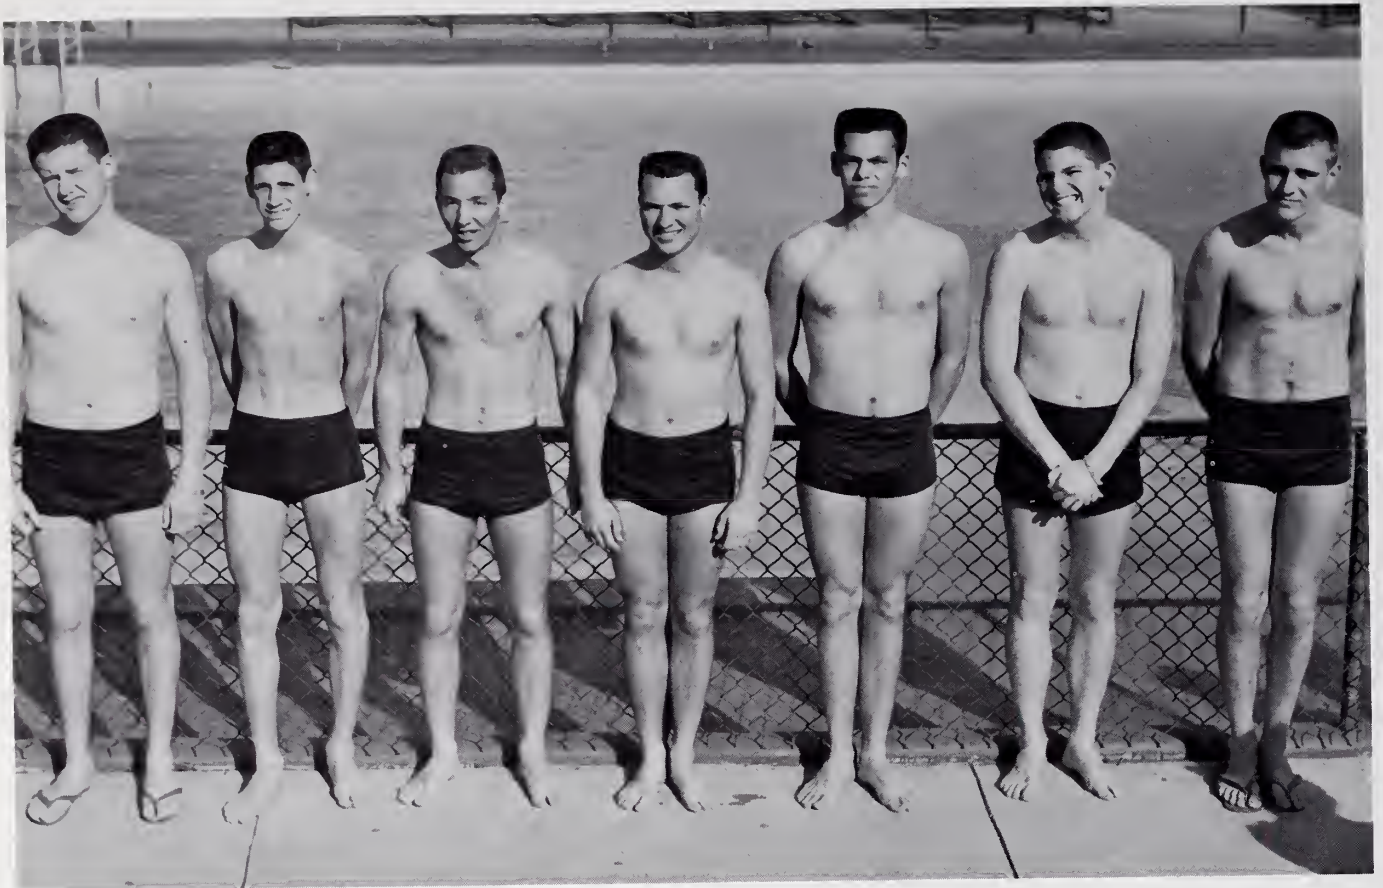

GHS	3	Daytona Beach Seabreeze	4
GHS	3	Ocala 4
GHS	3	Daytona Beach Seabreeze	4
GHS	6	Ocala 1

In the State High School Tennis Tournament GHS copped individual honors when Sylvia Hardaway fought back from the brink of defeat to beat Frances Farrar of West Palm Beach 3-6, 7-5, 6-3 for the Division I Singles crown. Sylvia and Verna Bean won the Division I Doubles crown by defeating Gay Miller and Joan Sanders of Coral Gables 6-4, 7-5. The points scored by these two GHS stars put the team in a three way tie for fifth place.

As we go to press, an upstart 1959 team, led by returning lettermen Martha Johnson, Dovey Kopelowitz, and Phoebe Bowers, scared Ocala before losing in a gruelling 4-3 match. In addition to the State High School Tennis Tournament in April, matches with Ocala, Daytona Beach Seabreeze and Jacksonville Landon have been scheduled.

GAINESVILLE HIGH

The Gainesville High School Orchestra took part in many activities during 1958-1959. Fall programs included a string concert in Lake City in November, a Sunday afternoon Vesper Concert in December dedicated to Claude Murphree, late Gainesville organist, and participation in the annual Gainesville High School Christmas program.

Eleven players represented the orchestra in the All-State Orchestra at the F. M. E. A. convention held during January in Tampa. Charles Coe, violinist, had the honor of being selected concert master of this one-hundred piece orchestra directed by the internationally known Dr. Howard Hanson. Becky Wanninger played first bassoon. The orchestra was represented in the National Federation of Music Clubs' annual Junior Festival by the string section, soloists, and ensembles. It took part in the F. O. A. district and state orchestra contests.

One of the highlights of the year was joining with the P. K. Yonge Orchestra for the annual Youth Orchestra Concert, played for the students in both schools and for the public in the new P. K. Yonge Auditorium.

String players of the orchestra played in the sixth annual String Round-Up, a concert in which all the schools of Gainesville participate.

Social activities for the orchestra included a dessert party at Mrs. Reeves' in the fall and an Orchestra-sponsored dance in March. The final and largest activity of the year for the orchestra was the Spring Formal Concert, followed by a reception honoring senior orchestra players.

Under the guidance of their new director, Mrs. Catherine Murphree, the choral groups of G.H.S. gave several lauded performances this year.

More than a hundred students participate in the Mixed Chorus, Freshman Chorus, and Girls' Chorus. Due to the large increase in membership this year several projects for raising money for new robes and music materials were undertaken.

The Melodettes were revived and for the first time a Boys' Quartet was seen on the stage of G.H.S. These two groups were also seen and heard throughout the state.

The chorus made several trips out of town and a selected group performed on a local T.V. station at Christmas time. A representative group went to Clinic in Tampa and brought back ideas for improvement in music techniques.

Any chorus member will say that belonging to the G.H.S. Chorus was one of his happy memories of G.H.S.

The Gainesville High School Band, under the direction of Bardwell M. Donaldson, consists of 85 members. There are ten majorettes, a drum major, two head majorettes, and a band captain.

Most of the band's growth has been during the past 12 years. In 1946 there were ten members without a director. There was practically no equipment. There were no uniforms. The members had only a minimum of experience on a musical instrument. From this the band has grown to its present status of well-equipped, well-dressed, and talented members.

The band has taken several trips in connection with its musical program. Three years ago the band went on an educational tour to New York City and two years ago the band went to Miami Beach.

During the past 12 years the band has attended district contests every year, and its rating in the state during these years of participation has remained high. In the contests for concert, sight reading, and marching there have been 58 first division ratings, 4 second division ratings, and 3 third division ratings. In solo and ensemble competition first division ratings are 99 percent.

A section of the band known as the pep band plays a very active part in developing school spirit by playing at basketball games and pep rallies.

The Key Club is sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club. It is a service club that provides the school with many services which make it more pleasant for the student and the teacher alike. Among the services to the school performed this year by the club were: selling ribbons at the football games, working on the school grounds, making bicycle racks, raising the flag each morning before school, and giving a flag pole and victory flag.

The Key Club also had community projects this year. One of these was helping with Senator Holland's campaign. This group, which is sponsored by Coach Odom, held a very successful dance during the first semester.

During the year the Keyettes planted, watered and weeded grass in the plot between A and B buildings; sponsored two dances; held rummage sales; sold Keyette pennants to sister clubs throughout the state; sold doughnuts and Hurricane flags at football games; made Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families; and made scrap-books for the children at Sunland Training Center. The University Kiwanis Club sponsors the G.H.S. Keyettes and Mrs. Levy is the club advisor.

WHEEL CLUB

The Wheel Club is an outstanding GHS boys' service club, sponsored by the Rotary International. As a service club, its main function is service to the school and community, and this year the function has been fulfilled in many ways. Cleaning the campus south of the school, selling Hurricane shirts, washing school windows, holding a workday, donating money to the library, and distributing advertising leaflets for local merchants are some of the club's many activities.

Wheel Club's entry in the Homecoming Parade float contest, constructed in co-operation with the Anchor Club, walked away with the first prize as a huge mobile dragon pursuing a bedraggled live oak football player.

This club had a long-to-be-remembered party during the second semester and attended church regularly as a body throughout the year. It boasted one of the highest club averages in scholarship. This year, as in the past, representatives were sent to the annual Wheel Club International convention. Faculty advisor for this group is Mr. Robert Baker.

The Anchor Club, together with the Wheel Club, got off to a rousing start in 1958 by winning the GHS Homecoming float award with their purple dragon. Fifteen girls were formally initiated into the club just prior to the Homecoming activities. Before becoming members, they worked for points by participating in club projects and attending club functions. The girls who earned the most points became members during an impressive candle-light ceremony at Nancy Silk's.

"Blue Bells of Scotland" was the theme for the annual Blue Dance, whose proceeds go to the tuberculosis fund. The club also helped the T.B. drive by selling Christmas seals. Other projects for this club were: a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family, a Halloween party at Sunland Training Center, and washing blackboards in the classrooms once every two weeks.

Anchor, which is sponsored by the Pilot Club, remains in close contact with them by attending luncheons throughout the year. Mrs. Tuttle is the faculty advisor.

ALPHA TRI-HI-Y

This year, as in the past, the Alpha Tri-Hi-Y of Gainesville High School has participated in and sponsored many worthwhile activities. They contributed to World Service, the cancer fund, gave checks to the speech department and library, and gave Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to needy families.

They also enjoyed many social activities: a banquet for Alpha Tri-Hi-Y alumni, sponsored a dance after the Seabreeze-G.H.S. game, a party at the end of the year with Gamma Hi-Y, and the annual Keyette-Tri-Hi-Y banquet.

As a money-raising project, this club made and sold purple and white shakers at the football games. They sent representatives to Blue Ridge and all state conferences. Sharon Fagan, a member of this Gainesville High School club, was elected State Historian for the year 1959.

Beta-Hi-Y, youngest of the boys' service clubs, has grown from a small inactive club to the present enthusiastic group of thirty boys with an active program of service and fellowship.

Under the sponsorship of Coach Smith, the club has successfully accomplished this year's undertakings. Working on the school grounds, selling megaphones during football season, helping in the "Peanuts for Polio" drive, and contributing to the library fund are some of this year's projects. Group church attendance by this club, as well as these projects, has brought about the closer feeling of fun and fellowship which this club strives to obtain.

Jerry Knight and Buddy Coleman are initiated into the Club.

Beta Hi-Y members earn points by working on the school grounds.

BETA TRI-HI-Y

Beta Tri-Hi-Y is a Christian organization sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. Each month the club attends a local church in a body.

This year Beta Tri-Hi-Y has sponsored a car wash and has sold pom-poms in the school colors. The club's special project for the new members has been caring for their grass plot on the school grounds.

Some of Beta Tri-Hi-Y's welfare projects have included giving stockings to a group at the Training Center at Christmas and giving a Christmas basket and toys to a needy family.

In the fall, the club was entertained at one of their meetings by a Variety Show put on by their new members. They did everything from baton routines to song pantomimes.

Beta Tri-Hi-Y's brother club, Beta Hi-Y, helped them with their Homecoming Float. In appreciation for their fine cooperation the girls gave them a supper. It was held at a member's home.

The club was represented by eight of their members and their sponsor at the North Florida Hi-Y-Tri-Hi-Y Conference held in Tallahassee in December.

On April 29, 1958, 15 girls were installed in the Valorettes service club which had been formed a month earlier with the advice and co-operation of Mrs. Selle, guidance director. "Composer" Donna Wilson added her words to the tune "Maryland, My Maryland" which resulted in the Valorette theme song. Turquoise and silver, the club colors, blend nicely with the white carnation, their chosen flower.

Valorettes, although it originated only last year, has many worthwhile projects. Every Christmas and Thanksgiving, they present a food basket to needy and deserving families. Again, Christmas is the occasion for brightening the faces of the less fortunate children at the Sunland Training Center by decorating a cottage there. Valorettes work hand in hand with their sponsor, the Civitan Club, selling fruitcakes. During the football season many students are seen wearing Valorette voodoo dolls representing the hanging of a member of the opposing team.

Belief that religion and service must work together is the reason the Valorettes attend church once each month. In the future the club hopes to have a wider program of projects so that they may be of even more service to their school and community.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

Mr. Talbot buys the first student directory from Louise Powell and Betty Harrell.

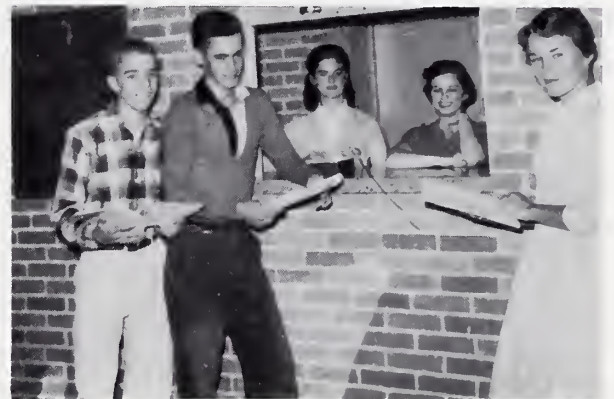

The Future Teachers' Club is made up of students from the ninth through the twelfth grades who are interested in teaching as a profession. Meetings are held once a month with programs planned to give students a better picture of the field of teaching. These include films, teachers from the kindergarten, elementary, and secondary school levels, retired teachers, intern students from the College of Education, representatives from the University of Florida, a combined meeting with the FTC of Santa Fe, and a dinner meeting at the end of the school year.

This year for the first time the club gave a tea in honor of the faculty. Plans are to make it an annual activity.

The Faculty Tea was enjoyed by all.

Membership in the National Honor Society is the culmination of years of high school work, final recognition for scholastic achievement. Ultimately, fifteen per cent of the senior class are admitted to the Society. Five per cent are made members in the spring of their junior years, five per cent more after the first six weeks of their senior year, and five per cent more at the beginning of the second semester.

The Society holds an impressive formal initiation in assembly every year, centered around the qualifications of the organization—scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

Activities during the year include presentation of scholarship plaques to the homeroom in each grade with the highest scholastic average every six-weeks period, collection of loose books left on campus after school, and the annual National Honor Society party.

Future Homemakers of America is just what the name implies—a club for girls who are interested in planning for their future homes and learning ways to make them pleasant. It is a non-profit youth organization which is open to anyone who takes Home Economics. This club was founded on a national level on June 11, 1945 and a few years later a club was formed at Gainesville High School.

The girls gain many ideas while they belong to this club. Among some of these are: to appreciate fully the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, to promote international good will, to encourage wholesome individual and group recreation, and to gain further interest in home economics.

"Les Buffons," (the clowns), was organized four years ago by the first group of French students in the high school. Then it consisted of fifteen members meeting to discuss French culture. Now as the interest in French and other foreign languages has increased, the number of members has jumped to almost fifty, over half of the students now taking French. This year thirty-three new members were initiated from the first and second year classes.

After the formal candle-light initiation, the new members entertained the old members by giving skits. These Skit Nights usually end up in rollicking fun and laughter. The Christmas party this year included skits as well as the usual refreshments and fun. In addition to the regular business meetings, "Les Buffons" has other programs featuring speakers and French music. As a member of this club the French student has fun learning about France, her culture, and language.

French Club Christmas party was a big success.

The main events for Los Sombreros Altos during the year are a formal, evening initiation, held at the beginning of each semester; a Christmas Pinata party and dance; the Pan-American Day program and the final May picnic with speaking contests for proficiency awards to be given at graduation. The Pan-American Day program was televised over Channel 5 this year.

"Next Friday night there will be a 'Roman Rumble . . . er . . . ah, 'Rumba,' in the gym," boomed the intercom. The curiosity of the student body was aroused by this announcement, and a large crowd turned out to dance in the column-lined gymnasium.

With this event, the year's activities of the Latin Club began. The club's calendar was dotted with successes and one big disappointment. The one occurrence marring the club's record was the happening which necessitated the "Latin Club Float Washed Out" poster which was carried in the rainy Homecoming Parade. Even so, the Latin Club won an honorable mention for its attempt!

The annual Roman Banquet, held this year in March, proved to be entertaining as well as educational. At this affair, ghosts of the past appeared in the form of toga-clad Latin students. Gladiatorial combats highlighted the entertainment and added to the over-all enjoyment of all.

Later in the spring, select students were privileged to attend the state Latin Forum, held this year in Tampa, and exchanged ideas about Latin with other Floridians. The several days spent at this convention were well-filled with educational as well as enjoyable activities.

Under the direction of Mrs. Sweeney, Latin Club sponsor, this up and coming young club completed its program.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION CLUB

Membership in the DE Club is open to members of the Distributive Education Classes. It is an affiliate of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. DE is a division of Distributive and Cooperative Training devoted to gaining proficiency in the areas of retailing and wholesale selling. Members enjoy participation in building displays and engaging in sales demonstrations. Because the students work on a cooperative basis in the businesses in town, they miss many school activities. To compensate for this, the club provides such things as "early-bird breakfasts," picnics, and parties.

Because the members feel that they are a part of their school and community, they select each year a civic project. This year's project was addressing about 12,000 envelopes for the March of Dimes against Polio. They were assisted in this by the C.B.E. club, another branch of the Distributive and Cooperative Training Program.

This year two candidates were sent to the State Convention at Daytona Beach. The club is sponsored by Mr. Eugene Horne.

HERALD

One of the features of life at GHS is the publication of the Hurricane Herald, the Gainesville High School newspaper. Appearing monthly, the Herald keeps everyone up to date on school news and amusing features. Work on the paper is done by the journalism class, and printing is done by Woods' Printing Company in Ocala.

The newspaper is composed of student-obtained news, and all work of correction, typing, and pasting up goes on in the busy class. The Herald made special coverage of events and holiday doings such as Homecoming, Christmas, and graduation. Financing is done through soliciting advertisements from local merchants and all book work is done by the business staff.

Many people take their annual for granted, think of it as something that is put together overnight and is synonymous with the end of school. This is an assumption that falls far short of the truth. Putting out an annual is a long, tedious, time-taking process.

The first efforts toward producing the 1959 Hurricane annual began last spring with the choosing of the staff. This year's group is headed by Mary Margaret Cox, the editor. Last Spring also saw advertising being solicited for this year's publication. But work did not stop over the summer; ads were sold, and the next years book was planned.

The staff started the year off on the wrong foot; they were a group of displaced persons. Until a room could be found for them, they had to work on the annual in a variety of different places. Everything was finally worked out, and the annual progressed.

The first jobs were organized and page allotments were made. After this was done, the various section editors were able to see what was needed and began work. Thus the 1959 annual began to take shape.

We hope that this yearbook will be a living reflection of the school year.

STUDENT LIFE

Although school activities and studying take up a major portion of a Gainesville High School student's time, he still has plenty of hours left. This spare time is consumed with many diversions depending on the individual's taste as to type and number.

Gainesville has many facilities for well-spent leisure hours. Due to the location of the University of Florida, Gainesville High students may take advantage of its cultural and recreational opportunities. Lectures, films, and professional entertainers are made available to the public.

High school students find pleasure in many things that might seem meaningless to adults such as souping up cars, flirting, and just plain old loafing. Most students seem to be interested in sports; either watching or participating. Tennis, bowling, swimming, and even pool are at the top of their lists. Dating is another important facet in a Gainesville teen-ager's life. Dating takes the form of dances, parties, movies, or riding around. Television, too, has its place on the student's schedule with westerns being the most popular by an overwhelming majority. Add the usual amount of "cutting up" and "goofing off" and you will find yourself with a pretty good idea of the off-campus life of a normal Gainesville High School student.

to participate in more relaxing activities.

New or old, a car is a teen-ager's best friend.

Larry Barnett relaxes after gruelling study.

BEST ALL ROUND, Randy Clarke and Molly Franklin, are shown taking time out from their many activities to enjoy a coke.

Going to the show is usually included in a Friday or Saturday night date.

Connie Connell and Kenny Russom, PERSONALITY PLUS, show their ability at the hoola-hoop, a fad which was popular at the first of the year.

HOME

The dreary weather of homecoming day did not dampen the spirits of Gainesville High School students and faculty. Highlighting the morning, a pep rally was held in the school gym. As the pep rally progressed, excitement mounted in anticipation as to whom the Homecoming Queen and her court would be. Molly Franklin was proclaimed Homecoming Queen and her court in order of rank was Peggy Nutt and Gail Rogers. Homecoming Princess was Libby Edwards. The football team sponsors were Connie Connell, Martha Johnson, Bill Watson, and Mickey Milam.

Because of the indefinite weather, a last minute rush was begun by the clubs in order to finish their floats for the Homecoming parade. The cheerleaders, all squads participating, led the parade. There were followed by the band which marched out of uniform. The floats followed next, all decorated and using the theme Purple Magic. The Wheel Club—Anchor Club float carried off the winning honors with Alpha Tri-Hi-Y placing second and Keyettes and Key Club tying for third place.

Later that evening a cavalcade from the school to Citizens Field officially opened the night's festivities. The pre-game ceremony was the presentation of the queen and the sponsors. The queen was conducted across the field to the strains of the beautiful "Fascination" played by the G.H.S. band.

After the ceremony the game began in earnest. G.H.S. rooters were contented at the half with a safe lead over Live Oak. The G.H.S. band and majorettes presented a "Hit-Parade" Half time show including "Patricia" and "Seventy-six Trombones." The second-half was as exciting as the first and G.H.S. supporters enjoyed a well-fought win over Live Oak. The final score was 33-0. A victory dance was held at the Rec. Center after the game. The dance was sponsored by the cheerleaders. Happy G.H.S. boosters danced into the night, thus completing the homecoming festivities.

COMING

The Alpha-Tri-Hi-Y float, which placed second, demonstrates G.H.S. pulling a victorious win out of a hat.

Although not in uniform because of the rain, the band presented a pleasing appearance and spirited music.

Although only the ten people in the foreground actually appear on stage, the production would have been impossible without the support of the committees and understudies in the background.

PLAY

"Tiger House," a three-act mystery comedy presented by the Gainesville High senior class, was certainly a success. The leading lady was Margaret Chandler, playing the pretty young heiress, Erma Lowrie, who finds herself blessed and cursed at the same time by the inheritance of "Mystery Manor." Aunt Sophia, portrayed very convincingly by Connie Connell, is the typical spry old aunt who utters ominous forebodings concerning the old house. Yami, played by Bill Pennington, adds an eerie note with his involvement in a story of Eastern superstition. This story has its beginning with a legend surrounding the jewels of a native tribe of India. The jewels were stolen by Erma's deceased aunt who was mysteriously killed. Arthur Hale, George Harrell, arrives just as strange occurrences begin and offers very definite ideas for the solution of the mystery. When the mystery is solved; however, Arthur is found to be the mastermind behind all the unusual disappearances. Charles Rich plays Mac MacIntosh, a detective who is in love with Erma, but poses as a servant in order to learn more about the mystery. Comedy is added by Tim Thompson as Oswald, an avid insect collector, and Shannon Bennett as Peggy Van Ess, Erma's loud, flighty friend. Adding to the confusion are the dour Scotch housekeeper, portrayed by Lyndell Larson and the Mystery Woman, Frances Blossom. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Beryl Miller, who was assisted by the student director, George Turner.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

John Frierson, most determined player; Lester Wigglesworth, most outstanding lineman; and Eddie Feely, most outstanding back and player with the best scholastic record; are congratulated by Coach Flowers.

The 1958-1959 G.H.S. football banquet drew a large crowd of players, coaches, and guests. Following the dinner, Coach Dick Flowers gave his farewell address before leaving his position as head coach and Coach Bubba McGowan presented the football awards.

Pat Summral was the guest speaker of the evening. In his speech, he gave a general history of his present team, the New York Giants. Climaxing the banquet was a movie of games played while Pat was still with the Cardinals.

Pat Summral tells of some of his experiences and outstanding games with the New York Giants.

PINATA PARTY

Students take turns at trying to break the pinata.

This year's Pinata Party, presented by the Spanish Club, was a festive occasion. "Las Posadas," a skit presented by several Spanish students, was modeled after the Spanish Christmas.

The highlight of the evening was the breaking of several different-shaped pinatas after the traditional pinata song was sung.

Mary Ellen Wolfe and Enrique Garcia gave the legend of the poinsettia and Mrs. Jenkins was presented with one.

Everyone scrambles for the candy and the nuts which the pinata contained.

"Las Posadas," a skit of Mexican Christmas customs, is presented by Spanish students.

FRESHMAN HOP

The G.H.S. dance band furnished the music for the Freshman Hop.

The freshmen talked, ate, and danced the night away and had a perfectly marvelous time.

The freshmen truly could have danced all night.

The supply of cookies and punch diminished rapidly as the evening progressed.

LATIN BANQUET

The Roman dishes and delicacies were enjoyed by all.

Arthur Congleton, dressed as a Roman soldier, was one of the many Latin students who came to the banquet in costumes.

KEYETTE KASANOVA DANCE

There was food, fun, and dancing for all at the Kasanova dance.
